Lens and Shutter held its last meeting of the year on Monday, April 20, in Hewitt Hall, at which time the annual elections were held. Results were: James Keenan, President; Andreas Turner, Vice-president; Phyllis Ulin, Secretary; Philip Dooley, Program Director.

The newly-elected president of the club served as chairman of the very successful Granite State Salon which was recently held at the library.

Because President Donald Linscott was in Portsmouth with the Varieties, Jim Keenan was in charge. After the business meeting, Mr. Hempler, who is an assistant in the art department and has studied in Europe, took over the meeting with a discussion and criticism of the Still Life salon prints submitted by the students in the photography classes.

Blue Key Elects Bill Keough New Prexy

Registration at NH Hall. Exhibits, Athletic Events Drill, Feature Full Day

by Bill Bryant

A wholesome welcome is extended to all of the several hundred friends and to over 800 mothers who will arrive tomorrow for the annual Mothers' Day program. Mothers from all over New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and even North Carolina have made plans to come to Durham to see their sons and daughters at school, to try to feel the pulsating inner life of a university, to view novel applications of new technical improvements and inventions, and to be entertained. Bus, rail and car are expected to bring a joyous, happy group of people who will have the curiosity of four-year-olds and sagacity of Solomon to learn just what, how, why, when things go on in Durham.

Register at N. H. Hall

All arrivals must register at New Hampshire Hall. Here, identification labels, programs, and general information are obtainable. Registration will take place from eight to twelve o'clock. Students, who have been excused from classes at nine, will meet friends, parents, and mothers to conduct them on a tour of the campus.

Issue Sugar Ration Book Instructions

Final instructions regarding the issuance of sugar ration books have not yet been received, but on the basis of preliminary information the following statement has been prepared.

Every student 18 years of age or older must secure a ration book during the period of Monday, May 4 through Thursday, May 7. "Student" includes graduate students and graduate assistants. Securing one of these ration books is of utmost importance, as within a short time they probably will be necessary for the purchase of many essential articles in addition to sugar.

Issued at Commons

Ration books will be issued in the Commons Trophy Room. (Faculty members must secure their books at the Durham school.) Commuting students may secure their books either at the Trophy Room or in their home towns, it is understood.

To relieve crowding, students must call for their books on the days set in the following schedule:

Those whose last names begin with A through D —Monday, May 4; E through K—Tuesday, May 5; L thru R—Wednesday, May 6; S thru Z—Thursday, May 7.

Books will be issued from 10 A.M. until noon and from 1 P.M. until 7 P.M. It will take each student about 15 minutes to fill out the forms.

In order to avoid rushes at certain hours, it is suggested that each student call for his book as early in the day as possible.

An Upperclassman to His Mother

DEAR MOM:—

Well, tomorrow's the big day—The one day that is set aside for you here at the university. It's going to seem good to have you down here again now that the weather has cleared up and we're able to walk around the campus without coats and rubbers.

You know, this year more than ever before I'm glad that you'll be able to be here with me for a day. You and I have an awful lot to talk over—especially the way things are turning out in regards to the draft.

But let's forget the draft for a little while.

Due to the speeded up program here at school the administration felt that this year they'd do away with the regular Mothers' Day program, but nevertheless there'll still be plenty for us to do. If you get here early enough we'll get some coffee and donuts at New Hampshire Hall. That's one fixture that the administration left intact—the Hotel boys always serve coffee and donuts to the Mothers and Dads when they register.

Then we'll look around campus for a little while and I'll show you some of the improvements made since you were here last. One thing that you'll notice tomorrow, that wasn't evident last year, will be the number of huge airplanes forever circling over Durham. With the country at war you know things have changed quite a bit.

But let's forget the war for a little while.

We'll go down to the dorm and I'll show you my room and introduce you to the housemother again and then we'll rest a little. About 11:30 we'll go up and see the Mil Art parade at Memorial Field. You always did like to see those boys marching along, didn't you? This year, though, seeing all the fellows out there marching along, carrying rifles—it makes you stop and think awhile. How many of those fellows will be parading for you mothers next year? Or how many will be fighting for their uncle next year—Uncle Sam.

But let's forget the fighting and parading for awhile.

We'll probably eat at the cafe around one o'clock, I imagine that there'll be hundreds of others eating there too, so we'll have to wait our turn in line, but we'll have plenty of time.

About two thirty we'll walk up to the baseball field and take a look at the game. We're going to have a good club this season and maybe you'll see some of the fellows on the club that you know. By the way, this is Hank Swasey's 21st year as baseball coach and it looks as though this year and next he'll have good seasons. That is unless Uncle Sam decides that he needs some of the players. You know, this year all the athletic teams were pretty good and it looks as though next year New Hampshire would have some really great teams, but darn it all, you can't be sure now. You don't know who's going to be back next fall.

But let's forget about fellows not coming back.

You're going to start getting tired about now—you'll have had a pretty busy day, and besides Dad will be coming to get you around four-thirty or five. So we'll end up back at the room and just talk for awhile.

I just read this letter over and I think that I've made a few mistakes. I've asked you to forget things like the draft, the war, fighting and parading and fellows not coming back to school — but you know, Mother, we can't forget those things now. From this time on they should be everyday thoughts in our lives. We can't sit back and let things go their own merry way—we've got to get out and do our best to straighten things out. The way things have turned out it looks as though my draft number is coming up soon—I know that you and Dad would like to have me finish school, but maybe I won't be able to. In either event though there is an awful lot to be done and it's up to you folks and me and millions of others like us to do what we can, where we can, and in the best way we can.

So Mother, after you've read this letter once, go back over it and when you come to a line saying "Let's forget," read it this way—"Let's NOT forget."

See you tomorrow—
Love,
Your Son.

To the Editor

Behind drawn curtains the Student Committee on War Activities is being quietly dispensed with. In its place will appear an emasculated body, a new sort of Student Congress (surely you have heard of its widespread activity). In contrast to the previous method of selection of members, based upon interest and willingness to work, the new organization will be made up of stooges from each organization on campus dead or alive. Little regard is being placed on the fact that some of these groups have in the past been unable to muster a single person vitally interested in Civilian Defense.

The method of selection of the new members of this committee should precipitate the indignation of every intelligent student in Durham. Campus politicians are to reign supreme. In a closed meeting on Tuesday afternoon a select group of campus "sattellites" gathered to dream up this new organization, conferred upon themselves the "power of election." Judging from the discretion employed thus far in the execution of this power the new committee is in for a gold star year.

Is America faring so well that she can afford to draw lines of social distinction? Are people to be debarred if they can offer no pedigree? Is the desire to work and help to be overlooked while a person's willingness to stay on the band wagon and never dissent shall remain a major prerequisite?

It is time for the level-headed students to make themselves heard. It is time to demand that personal endeavor be subordinated to Civilian War Activity.

Racqueteers Face Rhode Island Squad

Coach Fielding's varsity tennis squad gets into action tomorrow afternoon at Kingston, Rhode Island, when his Wildcats meet the Rams.

This will be the first meet for the Durham squad since the practice tilt with Franklin's team last Saturday was cancelled because of the inability of the Franklin players to make the trip.

The weather lately has curtailed the practice sessions of the tennis team but nevertheless, the Wildcat players are set to give the Rams a big battle.

The game with Tufts scheduled for May 9 has been cancelled but otherwise the games are still intact. On April 29 the tennis team faces the Maine racketeers here at Durham. This will be the second meet, and then on May 1 we play Connecticut at Storrs, and finally on May 5, Boston University at Boston.

Coach Fielding has not picked the exact men who will make the trip which will start tomorrow morning.

Conferences Held for Vocational Guidance

Vocation days, that period of the academic year when prominent men in many fields came to campus to offer advice on vocational problems, has been eliminated this year, due to the inability of these men to be present because of national defense.

However, meetings have been planned with faculty advisors, and all freshmen are urged to attend, at least one of these affairs. Upperclassmen are also invited to attend.

Today at 4:15 majors in the various sciences, biology, bacteriology, entomology, zoology, pre-medical curriculum, geology, meteorology, history and sociology will meet with their advisors.

Monday the general business, co-operative hospital, education, teacher preparation curriculum, hotel administration and mathematics majors will meet at 4:15. At the same time on Tuesday, majors in government, languages, occupational therapy, and the secretarial groups will have meetings.

JUNIORS

Juniors may obtain a copy of their academic record at the Registrar's office to assist them in registering for the coming year.

Lost—Silver identification bracelet. Finder please call 112.

Activities of Student Defense Committee Prominent on Campus

Editor's note—The following resume of the activities of the defense committee has been received by "The New Hampshire." The many who are unaware of the work of this committee will find it pertinent and interesting.

When the newly created committee known then as the Student Defense Committee, met for the first time on December 9, 1941, it was with certain apprehensions that we started out on our work. We were one of thousands of similar committees established in thousands of colleges and universities throughout the country to try to organize the numerous student war activities springing up everywhere around the campuses.

The declaration of war just before our Christmas vacation just doubled our confusion—confusion, because we were groping for some method of procedure in carrying out our duties, uncertain as to where our activities started and stopped, and wondering how we could become recognized by the student body and gain their cooperation. At one of our earlier meetings we discussed these problems and came to the conclusion that, if we could overcome these, the year could be considered a success.

Survey First Job

One of our first jobs was to conduct a survey for the American Council on Education at Washington of those men registered in the draft in this university. The result of this survey was a 97 per cent turn-out, which is a high percentage in any college survey. With this, we were off to a good start and were determined not to let this standard down throughout the year. Following close in the wake of this, was the organization of three hundred girls interested in taking various Red Cross courses in First Aid. Due to the efforts of our Vice Chairman, Gail Daly, these classes were efficiently organized and instructed throughout the remainder of the year.

Chest Fund Success

The organizational program of the College Chest Committee was passed on to the Religious Organizations and successfully carried out under the Chairmanship of Bill Cone. When John Davis receives word from Con-

The annual tea given for senior women by the Great Bay Branch of A.A. U.W. will be held in Smith Hall on Thursday, April 30 at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Gertrude Deveneau will present a musical program and Miss Helen Putney will be the tea chairman. All senior women are cordially invited to attend.

OUTING CLUB

The Outing Club requests that all organizations wishing to use the Mendum's or other Outing Club cabins, make their requests in writing at least one week in advance. Last minute requests cannot be granted.

cord, via President Engelhardt, he will lead a year-round drive on the student sale of defense stamps and bonds. These suggest a few of our better known activities of this year and could be supplemented with many others of less renown but of equal importance. Some of these are: Farm Labor Surveys, U.S.O. Dances, book and paper drives, bandage wrapping units, physical fitness program, air raid center watches, and conduction of a general coordinating center for students interested in defense work.

Have Defense Quarters

At the invitation of the Student Council, we have shared the offices at 309 Ballard Hall with them, and have held our weekly meetings there. This is especially convenient since our activities are complementary; those directly connected with war efforts and those not.

We feel that we have accomplished our original objectives and with a year's experience behind the Student War Committee, next year's committee is expected to do even a better job.

Dougalmen Oppose Tufts Lacrossemen

After dropping a hard-fought battle to the strong Dartmouth lacrosse team the Wildcat varsity lacrosse team faces Tufts here tomorrow afternoon in its second game of the year.

Coach Dougal was well-pleased with the showing the New Hampshire men made against the Green. This was Dartmouth's sixth game and New Hampshire's first, and if the game had been played as originally scheduled, the last game of the year, the Dougal forces could have put on a much better showing. The game had to be either cancelled or played early.

Martin Out with Injury

Phil Martin couldn't play because of an injury, but all the fellows that saw action did a good job. Dougal was pleased by the manner in which they came back after the first half. Monica, Hastings, Darling, Kolinsky, Mackel, Kalled did their jobs well and tomorrow the team should be in condition to give the Jumbos a tough battle.

The Dartmouth game was all the more impressive when one takes into consideration the fact that the Indians get players from the Maryland section where boys play lacrosse all the time, whereas practically all of the Wildcat men never played until they came here.

Boo Morcom and Ed Styrna In Penn Relays at Philadelphia

Starting the spring varsity track competition, the two well-known University of New Hampshire stars in the Track World. Boo Morcom, ace high jumper and pole vaulter, and Ed Styrna, the crack javelin and discus thrower, compete this week-end at the Penn Relays held in Philadelphia.

At this meet will be many of the top-notch trackmen from all sections of the country. There probably will be stiffer competition in this meet than in any other in which these boys have participated. The Big Ten Conference is planning to send its best men to compete and so are many schools from the South.

Peoples to Compete

Ed Styrna is to compete in the javelin and discus throws. Ed has looked good in spring practice thus continuing his splendid mid-winter performances. This time he will meet champions from all over. The javelin record for the Penn Relays is 223 feet, 10½ inches, so he will really have to work hard.

Bob Peoples, the famous track star from the University of Southern California, is to compete in this event and his personal record is 234 feet, 3½ inches, better than the Penn Relay record.

Boo Morcom is entered in the high jump and pole vault, both his specialties. He'll have to be doing his best all the time since the records are good and usually there are some fellows who come to this event who haven't been heard of before but who suddenly surprise everyone by doing almost unbelievable feats.

The high jump record for the Penn Relays is 6 feet 7¼ inches. Morcom has missed this by a single inch so in order to beat it he must improve his personal record.

The Penn Relay pole vault record is 14 feet, 2 3/8 inches, a mark which Boo has surpassed before in competition.

Two Baseball games with Maine here

by Buck Nareau

It is rapidly drawing towards the ninth day of May, and that means graduation, this to many of us is joyous news; we think of the five months of vacationing in our home towns, of being back with our old gangs, and of the complete relief of not having to grind up for exams on evenings when one could be doing something much more enjoyable, but this summer it will all be vastly different. The United States of America is fighting for its existence and Uncle Sam needs men, men like the athletic stars who have worn the regalia of the Blue and White with honor for the past four seasons will for the most part don the khaki of the United States Army and once more enter into a contest in quest of victory, for after all war is much similar to an athletic contest: it is a struggle in which the better team will win and where sheer fight and intestinal fortitude (guts to the average reader) will triumph.

In other years the graduating athlete could look forward to a coaching career, a fling at pro ball or entering some field in which they have become specialized, but not so this year.

Thus it is to the following Senior lettermen that this is dedicated to: Ed Bove, Stacey Clark, Will Feeney, Joe Gordon, Ed Lyszcias, George Stevens, Patsy Improta, Bill Rudd, Paul Nugent, Jerry Thayer, Bob Quinn, Ed Carlson, Harold Hall, Bobby Clark, Dick Sughrue, George Alimi, Hal Monica, Morris Pinks, Bill Cannell, Bog Mathews, Fred Draper, Howie Atwell, Bob Prescott, Dwight Stiles, and Elliot Jewell. May they give the axis as much trouble as they did opposing teams.

Keough, Wheeler to Captain Teams

Billy Keough, stellar member of the University of New Hampshire ski team for the past three seasons has been announced as captain elect for the coming season. Keough is a member of Theta Kappa Phi, Blue Key, and Student Council. Bill hails from Berlin, deep in the heart of the ski country. On the team he is a cross-country man and a jumper.

Wheeler Basketball Leader

At the same time it was announced that the captain elect of the coming season for varsity basketball is sophomore Bob Wheeler, who will succeed Hal Monica. This is the first time in many years that any one other than a senior has captained a varsity team.

Wheeler is a member of Theta Chi fraternity, and played forward on the past season's quintet. He was one of the leading scorers on the team.

Karelis Given Starting Nod Hitting, Fielding Look Good

by Rolly Stroyman

The peaceful township of Durham will have its 1942 baseball opening 24 hours hence, when the University of New Hampshire diamond team is scheduled to do battle with the Lowell Textile diamond nine in the curtain-raiser of the abbreviated season.

Since the tilt is being played as the feature afternoon attraction of the 17th annual Mothers' Day celebration, a crowd of close to 1000 spectators is expected to be on hand.

Exeter Nine Downs Kitten Team by 6-5

The freshman baseball team dropped a close 6-5 verdict to Exeter Academy on the Exeter diamond. The score was knotted until the last half of the ninth inning when the Exeter team pushed across a tally to win the game.

At the end of the third inning the Kittens were leading by a 4-3 margin as the result of a three-run third inning.

Exeter tied the score in the seventh inning but New Hampshire got a run in the eighth to take a one run lead, 5-4. Exeter, however, got one in the eighth to tie it and then in the last of the ninth they won the game.

Dondero, freshman twirler, struck out eight and walked five, beside getting three hits in four trips to the plate as his hitting contribution.

Of the nine hits that the Kittens registered, Dondero got three, Massucco, Hunton, Cunning each got two apiece.

The lineup for New Hampshire: Kenyon, r; Massucco, C; Hunton, s; Cunning, 1; Bobotas, 2; Dillon, 3; Rawzas, cf; Grant, H; Dondero, p.

Green Frosh Downs Track Kittens 77-49

Even though Burt Cram took firsts in the hammer, javelin, shotput and discus, the New Hampshire freshmen trackmen lost to a strong Dartmouth frosh team, 77-49.

The Kittens got seven firsts but couldn't get anywhere in general in the second and third places. Koumantzelis won the broad jump, was second in the 120-yd. high hurdles, and third in the 220-yd. low hurdles.

Bill Scammon won the 100 yard dash and Ingraham won the 220 yard dash.

Summary: Hammer — Cram (NH), Brundage, Howard. Javelin — Cram (NH), Monahan, Brown. Shotput — Cram (NH), Monahan, Johnson (NH). Discus throw — Cram (NH), Monahan, Johnson (NH). RIDE 'EM COWBOY

Starting his 21st year as head coach of the New Hampshire club will be Henry "Hank" Swasey, genial master of the sport who has become a landmark at the Field House. Coach Swasey, who also guides the fortunes of the basketball team here at UNH, has set an enviable record and his baseball teams have written a bright mark onto the pages of Wildcat sport annals.

After watching this year's squad in action on many occasions during its four weeks of practice, it appears as though another Wildcat nine is in for a highly successful campaign. In fact, many observers, who base their opinions from a good vantage point, state that the 1942 edition of the UNH diamond team is the likeliest looking team in recent years. In past seasons Swasey has come up with some good teams, last year's failing to win the New England crown by a few percentage points.

Club Has Balance

But this season's club has something that has been missing in past years, and that's balance. At one time or another in recent campaigns, there has been a UNH team that was heavy hitting, or fancy fielding, or one that possessed a good pitching staff, but never has there been a combination of all three.

The team that takes the field tomorrow will come the closest to this perfect set-up. They have improved and added new material to the pitching staff, they have been hitting extra well and their play afield has even brought complimentary remarks from their usually stern coach.

Starting on the mound for the Durham heroes will be Irving "Sheik" Karelis, a junior from Haverhill, Mass. Karelis set back this same Lowell outfit with one hit last year to gain a 1 — 0 victory. He was the pitching sensation of the N. E. League last spring winning six games and losing one, and that by a single tally in an extra inning affair. "Sheik" is a smart righthander, seems never to be behind the batter, and is cool as a cucumber on the hill.

Alimi to Catch

Donning the mask and pads will be George Alimi, veteran receiver from Rochester. George is a great defensive catcher, possessing a very strong arm. He is also a worthy batter being capable of breaking up a ball game at any time.

At first base will be Paul Nugent, erstwhile hockey goalie from Quincy, Mass., who, in his first year of varsity ball, bested five other candidates for the berth. Nugent is a big fellow packing plenty of power at bat. He lacks experience around the bag, but his spirit and fight offsets it.

Jerry Thayer, bespectacled senior from Epping, will hold down second base duties. He is one of the heaviest sluggers on the team and is a classy fielder. He is one of the four lettermen starting.

"He's small, but he carries a load of dynamite in his bat, and is the cleverest fielder in the club" is a one-line description of North Attleboro's pride and joy, Harold Hall, popular three-

NEWMAN CLUB OUTING

On Sunday, May 3, the Newman Club will hold an outing at Father O'Conner's camp. The committee in charge, Chairman, Mary Manning, transportation, Don Cross; refreshments, Louise Flynn and John MacKoan. This outing will be free and time and place of departure will be announced later.

A tiny pin-hole in a telephone cable can admit moisture, causing short circuits and service interruptions. But Bell System men have found a way of beating this trouble to the punch.

They charge the cable with dry nitrogen under pressure. Then should a leak develop, the escaping gas keeps moisture out. Instruments on the cable detect the drop in pressure . . . sound an alarm at a nearby station . . . indicate the approximate location of the break. A repair crew is quickly on its way.

To maintain and improve America's all-important telephone service, men of the Bell System are constantly searching for the better way. Pioneering minds find real opportunity in telephone work.

Probably the first exhibit that will be noticed will be the one in New Hampshire Hall, of a photography exhibit of campus, home, and work life. Also a selection of prints that students in the photography classes made may be seen. Part of the pottery exhibit may be viewed here, too. The remaining part of the exhibit is shown in the Pottery Laboratory in the basement of Ballard Hall. Nearby, the Crafts Cottage will be open under the direction of Miss Bowen.

Will Visit Buildings

The entire facilities of the University will be ready and willing to aid its guests. Everyone is invited to go into all its buildings, see what they want, and ask as many questions as they wish. Nor is the University Greenhouse to be forgotten, horticultural demonstrations, orange trees, melons, and a variety of other startling things are to be seen. The library has several entertaining and instructional scenes.

From 11:00 to 11:30 the Reserve Officers Training Corps, even more important since the outbreak of hostilities, will march on Memorial Field. This parade has become a traditional part of the Mothers' Day ceremony.

Lunch at Frats

All fraternities and sororities are having special luncheons for the mothers of members. Mothers of other students may eat with them in the University Dining Hall. To avoid congestion at the dining hall seniors, juniors and sophomores will eat with them from 11:00 to 11:45. Freshmen with guests are asked to eat in the Freshman dining hall at 12:30. Students without guests are requested to eat in the cafeteria at the regular hours.

Freshman tickets will be honored at the cafeteria and cafeteria tickets held by upperclassmen will be honored in the Freshman dining hall if presented with guest tickets. The same menu will be served in both dining halls.

Music Festival

At two o'clock a musical festival will be presented in the University Field House, with all units of the Music Department taking part. The first part of the program is by the University band. This is followed by President Fred Engelhardt's address to the assembly. Next, the Orchestra and the Women's Glee Club present separate programs. A most timely and novel "Song of Faith" by Carpenter is presented by the Combined Men and Women's Glee Clubs and University Orchestra. This piece is one that is representative of some of this country's American music. The concluding number is from Bloch's symphony "America."

Athletic Events

Several important athletic games are to be played in the afternoon. Freshman lacrosse and Freshman Track, and Varsity lacrosse and a Varsity vs. Lowell Textile Institute baseball game will provide spectators with a busy, yet highly enjoyable afternoon.

The Mothers' Day committee, consisting of Dr. Arwood S. Northby, chairman; Professor Shimer of the College of Agriculture; Miss Brewer of the Home Economics Department; Professor Stolworthy of the College of Technology; Professor Howard Jones of the College of Liberal Arts; and Mr. E. Prescott Campbell of the Business Office express their sincere greetings to all who attend.

CONVOCATION

students of the university as "fellow members of the tribe of Benjamin." He said that even though this convocation was inaugurated only last year, it could still be called traditional; that the tradition had taken root and added a sense of reality to the university. He stressed the point that if ever the American people quit patronizing the Chinese because of their ancestor worship that someday there would be an ancestral shrine on this campus in honor of Benjamin Thompson, its founder.

He went on to say that Ben Thompson is just as much a part of this university as Eli is to Yale or John Harvard to Harvard. Neither of these men were more American or more bound to their school than was Thompson. Here Mr Babcock offered the suggestion that familiarity with the life of Thompson should seriously be considered as part of the requirements for entrance to the university.

In continuation, Professor Babcock presented a verbal picture of the intimate character of Benjamin Thompson. He said that first and always he was an American; a composite of such famous men as George Washington, Daniel Boone, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, and Calvin Coolidge. He was as American as a cornfield, as maple sugar, corn chowder, or a hickory tree. And above all—he was a Yankee—a frugal, industrious, "fight-in" Yankee. There were two sides to his nature. The silent, taciturn, patient "can't-be-shoved-around" sort of man on one side, on the other, the daring, go-getter, adventurous person.

Prime Symbol of America

In conclusion Mr. Babcock talked about the "Prime Symbol of America." To some it is the dollar bill, to others, the eagle, the covered wagon, the Red Cross, the log cabin, the hot dog, the skyscraper or an airplane. To Sinclair Lewis it was "Main Street." But actually it is none of these things. It is the schoolhouse. There is nothing more democratic than an American school. It gives every individual the chance to reach for the highest. And that is what Benjamin Thompson gave to the world when he founded this university. He believed in helping people but he also believed that they must work for it. Now we must fight to preserve these opportunities that have been given to us by an "essential American—Benjamin Thompson."

One hundred twenty men from 21 communities in three states are now preparing themselves to serve the industrial war effort of the nation more effectively in the largest single class so far established under the university defense training program.

Ray Dupell Awarded National Scholarship

One of the four $500 scholarships awarded annually by Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society, has been awarded to Raymond R. Dupell.

Dupell, who was selected on the basis of high scholastic standing, character, and campus activities, was in competition with members of 48 other chapters of the honorary society. Dupell plans tentatively to study educational psychology at Columbia University with the money which is awarded to assist students in graduate study in a non-professional field.

A member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Dupell is in the French Club, is a member of the symphony orchestra, and is also a pitcher on the Wildcat baseball team.

Many Women Needed in Aircraft Field

The Bureau of Appointments has just been requested by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft to call to the attention of women members of the graduating class opportunities that are open to them in the aircraft field.

Young women who are graduates of colleges are needed in the technical branches of the aircraft service for positions as junior technicians. The duties may consist of technical work related to chemical analysis, spectroscopy, X-ray, physical testing, and other types of laboratory work. For most of these positions one year of chemistry either in high school or college is the only specialized training required; however, majors in the fields of chemistry or physics may be appointed to positions of a more specialized nature. Applicants must be graduates of a recognized college.

Any girl of the class of 1942 who can meet the above qualifications and who are interested in employment of the type offered by the aircraft industry are urged to register with the Bureau of Appointments at once.

Girls Chosen for Poise and Posture

Five girls have been chosen in each dormitory and house to be participants in the annual Inter-house Posture and Poise Contest sponsored by W.A.A. sport senior who will start tomorrow at shortstop.

Captain to Play Third

Captain Dick Sughrue, a product of Portland, Maine, will be stationed at the hot corner sack. Lanky Dick, a veteran of two years, is a capable fielder and is surprising all with some heavy hitting in practice.

Husky Brag Hanson, a transfer from Green Mt. Jr. College and a resident of Saco, Maine, will guard the left field sector. Hanson made quite a name for himself two summers ago as a member of the summer school team. He wields a powerful stick and has a strong arm.

Patrolling the center field territory will be Karl "Red" Adams, All-N. E. Hockey center, who hails from Concord. Adams is the most respected batter in the club and is a fancy ball-hawk. He is, without doubt, the fastest player on the team.

Leo Dupont, soph from East Rochester, has won the starting right field position from a quartet of aspirants. Dupont also is a good hitter and a classy fielder.

Now on the other side of the picture, we find Waldo "Rusty" Yarnall starting off his 15th year at the helm of Lowell Textile's baseball tidings. In fact, Yarnall has coached every sport at the Merrimac Valley institute for the past 14 years. He is very well-known along the New England college front and is liked by all.

Three Veterans to Start

The visitors will have three veterans in the starting line-up. They are Cy Harper, captain and left fielder, Lou Valente, star twirler, and Steve Woitkowski, center fielder. Yarnall has been hard hit by the draft, losing four would be starters.

The Textile Institute was scheduled to play Brown and Rhode Island earlier in the season, but both games were called off because of the weather. However, they opened their season against A.I.C. last Wednesday losing 10-3.

Wildcat baseball teams have met Lowell on the diamond nine times since 1930. On five occasions the Swasey men came out victorious, Lowell won three, and in 1940 the contest ended in a 3-3 tie, darkness being the disturbing element.
